

Social and Personal.

THE RT. REV. ARTHUR BELDEN LLOYD, Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia, and Mrs. Lloyd will arrive in Richmond Wednesday, November 24, and be the house guests of the Rev. William Meade Clark and Mrs. Clark, at 110 North Fifth Street, for a week. On Saturday, November 27, from 5 to 7 P. M. Mrs. Clark will give an informal reception for the officers of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Episcopal Church, junior and senior, to meet Bishop and Mrs. Lloyd.

The bishop coadjutor will preach at St. James Episcopal Church on the morning of Thanksgiving Day and the Sunday following, and will hold other services while in Richmond. His visit to Richmond will be a source of much pleasure to his and Mrs. Lloyd's many friends.

Weddings. Invitations have been sent out for the marriage of Miss Allie Jennings, daughter of William Leslie Jennings, to Ernest Campbell Mead, son of Edward Mead, of Keswick, Va., the wedding to be celebrated on Tuesday evening, December 7, at half-past 6 o'clock in St. Paul's Church.

Both Miss Jennings and Mr. Mead have a wide circle of friends, and the wedding will be one of the social events of the early winter. Mr. Mead and his bride will be at home after January 1, at 206 North Harrison Street, Richmond.

Returned From New Orleans. Mrs. W. J. Leake, and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Leake and Stuart C. Leake have returned from New Orleans, where they attended the marriage of Miss Camille Adele Penrose.

Adelle Penrose, formerly of this city, the wedding, which took place November 16, in St. George's Church, New Orleans, was a very brilliant affair. Later Mr. Leake and his bride will be the guests of his mother, Mrs. William J. Leake, at her residence, 915 Park Avenue, New York.

In Honor of the Misses Townsend. Mr. and Mrs. James Caskie have sent out cards for an entertainment to be given in honor of Miss Caskie and Misses Polly and Eleanor Townsend, of Philadelphia, on November 22, at 8 o'clock, in their residence, 2 South Fifth Street.

Miss Polly Townsend has visited here several times as the guest of her aunt, and her sister, Miss Eleanor Townsend, is a much admired debutante this season in Philadelphia. The entertainment of smaller affairs will be given in their honor.

The Guest of Miss Joyce. Miss Elizabeth Taylor Gaines, of Warrenton, Va., will arrive this afternoon to be the guest of Miss Julia Joyce, 209 West Franklin Street. Miss Gaines is noted for her beauty, and is one of the most popular society girls in Virginia. She was a visitor in Richmond last winter, and has been entertained a great deal.

An Interesting Wedding Will Take Place November 24, when Miss Dorothy Roberts, daughter of Mr. Rosamond Roberts, will be married to Dr. David Edward Duff, formerly of South Carolina. The ceremony will be performed at 12 o'clock at "Tremont," the country place, near Catonsville, of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, Jr.

Dr. C. J. Graves will be the best man, and Master Sidney Stanley Zell, the little nephew of the bride, will be page.

A small breakfast will follow, after which the bride and bridegroom will leave for a wedding journey, and on their return will spend the winter at the Hotel Sherwood.

Mrs. Saunders's Tea. Mrs. Edward Archer Saunders, Jr., will be hostess at a very beautiful afternoon reception in honor of her daughter, Miss Mary Ball Saunders, on Tuesday, November 23, from 4 to 6 o'clock, at her residence, 604 West Franklin Street. Mrs. Saunders will entertain the younger society set later at a cotillion in the Jefferson Hotel ballroom.

Mr. Lord's Engagement. The engagement is announced of Mrs. Eleanor Potter Lord to Charles Edward Dunn, a graduate of Minnesota University, and for some months a resident of Richmond and a member of the Richmond bar.

Mrs. Lord is the widow of Charles Everett Potter Lord, of New York, and is well-known in society circles of California and New York. She is a connection of the late Bishop Potter, of New York.

The wedding will be celebrated in the late autumn, the exact date not being decided. The bride and groom will spend the winter in Egypt and Palestine, returning to Richmond in the spring.

SAVED HER OWN LIFE

Kentucky Lady's Statement of How She Saved Her Own Life by the Use of Cardui.

Lebanon Junction, Ky.—"I will with the greatest pleasure tell you that I owe my life to Cardui," writes Mrs. Minnie Lamb, "for I believe I would have been dead by now had it not been for Cardui. I took Cardui and Black-Draught for about 4 weeks. I haven't had one of those bad spells since I commenced to use your medicine."

"I keep Cardui on hand all the time now, for it has done me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I recommend Cardui to suffering friends of mine, and they all say it is helping them so much. I will always praise Cardui, for I feel it saved my life."

Cardui is a specific medicine for women—for the ills that only women suffer. It is regarded to-day as a dependable medicine, in thousands of homes, giving prompt relief to the suffering ones.

Cardui is made from harmless vegetable ingredients, and contains no dangerous drugs. It is a safe, reliable medicine, successfully used by suffering ladies for more than half a century.

If you suffer from headache, nervousness, pains in side or back, or some other symptoms of womanly trouble, don't endure the pain any longer—try Cardui and get well. It has helped thousands of other suffering ladies—it will help you, too. Try it to-day.

What queen with her fleet accompanied Xerxes when he invaded Greece and distinguished herself by her courage at the battle of Salamis?

Artemisia, Queen of Caria. T. J.

Garde Le Roi.
To whom was the motto, "Garde Le Roi" first given? By what King and for what service?

L. M. A.
To Jane Lane, daughter of Thomas Lane and sister of Colonel John Lane, of the English army. It was bestowed by King Charles II, because Jane Lane, after the battle of Worcester, rode behind him from Bentley in Staffordshire, to the house of her cousin, Mrs. Norton, near Bristol, and saved him from capture. For this act of loyalty her family received an anamorial device and the motto above quoted.

Best Man's Duties.
Will you please tell me what is required of a "best man" at a marriage?

Milton, N. C.
The best man accompanies the groom to the church and the altar, where both await the coming of the bride. He then stands at the right hand of the groom, a little behind him, and holds his hat during the marriage service. He has charge also of the wedding ring, which he gives to his friend at the proper moment. He takes charge of the license, pays the clergyman's fee, follows the bride and groom to the house, and assists the ushers in introducing the friends to the bride and groom. The best man generally appears at the station, to deliver to the groom his checks and traveling paraphernalia.

Question of Acceptance.
Will you please tell me in your "Of Interest to Women" Column, if it will be correct for me to accept an invitation sent to my husband and myself by a woman friend of his, but a stranger to me? The occasion is an evening reception. READER.

Leader of Her Day.
Who was one of the first Southern slave-owners among women to set her slaves free?

E. H. W.
Margaret Mercer, daughter of an American who was a former Governor of Maryland, and a member of the Constitutional Convention. After her father's death she expended her entire fortune in freeing her slaves, and sending them back to Liberia. Afterward she supported herself by teaching, and founded a school in Maryland, where she had the opportunity of helping many young women to get an education.

The First Garden City.
I belong to a club of women greatly interested in the "Garden City" movement. Please tell me where the first garden city was started, and by whom? Where is the movement most popular?

A. P. C.
At Letchworth, in Hertfordshire, England. It was projected by Ebenezer Howard, of England, and planned by Messrs. Barry Parker and Raymond Unwin. Since the success of Letchworth and of Hampstead Garden Suburb, in England, the garden city idea has spread elsewhere over England, France and Germany.

Well Supplied with Telephones.
Seven Companies Are Now in Operation in Nelson County.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LOVINGSTON, VA., November 21.—Work on the line of the Rockfish Telephone Company, in this county, is being rapidly pushed to completion, it being the opinion of the officers that it will be in thorough operation before January 1. This is a new line, recently chartered by the Corporation Commission, and it extends through the center of the county, from Shipman on the Southern Railway on the south, to Basic City on the north.

With this new line complete, there will be seven telephone companies in operation in Nelson county. The Rockfish Company, which is now completing its line, is perhaps the most valuable of all, from a standpoint of public convenience, as it runs nearly across the entire county, and will connect with the long distance lines at either end.

Much interest is felt among the educators of this county in the great State conference which will open in Richmond next Tuesday. Division Superintendent Henry T. Harris, and a delegation of Nelson teachers and trustees, are attending.

Already there is much talk in local political circles of the contest for County Treasurer, notwithstanding the fact that the election will not take place for over a year. Probable aspirants are feeling their way carefully among the voters, and a long drawn out campaign is anticipated. It is understood that the incumbent, Captain C. M. Kemper, who was appointed by the Circuit Court to succeed the late Julius R. Peebles, will probably not stand for the long term. The names most frequently heard in this connection up to this time are those of R. L. Camden, manager of the Lovington branch of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, and William J. Hill.

A prominent farmer and former commissioner of the revenue for the State's Mill District. Voters in the county are discussing the situation almost as freely as though the election were to be held within the next few months.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH DEDICATED IN SUFFOLK

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SUFFOLK, VA., November 21.—Before an audience of about 100, the new St. Mary's Catholic Church, the first of that faith to be built in Suffolk, was formally dedicated here to-day, the sermon being preached by Father Van Ingelman, of Richmond.

Other priests who had parts in the rites were Father C. A. Donohue, of Portsmouth, and Father F. P. Kaup, of Richmond. Bishop Van Dyver was expected, but did not come. A choir from Portsmouth sang and the altar boys, also of that city, were here under the direction of Brother Justin. Father M. J. Hatz, of Portsmouth, will be pastor of St. Mary's, which is located in the West End, a fashionable section of the town.

FORTS, NOT NAVY, SAYS CARNEGIE

"Laird of Skibo" Believes in Building Fortifications, the Bigger the Better.

THEY ARE FOR DEFENSE

No Need of Great Fleet, He Declares, to End Any Possible War.

OLD POINT COMFORT, VA., November 21.—President Taft got "the Laird of Skibo" yesterday afternoon, when he was his guest since his arrival at Norfolk Friday, on the subject of the enlargement of the American navy and coast defense.

The "Laird of Skibo" came over on the ferry with Sir Horace Plunkett, of Ireland, to be with the President during the exercises at Hampton Institute in the afternoon.

"I am for fortification," said Mr. Carnegie. "The President, when he twitted me in his speech at Cape Henry, made the mistake of thinking that I am opposed to all forms of preparation for war. I believe in forts, big forts, the biggest and best forts in the world, and plenty of them. Forts are for defense; they safeguard our ports."

It is the hard race to see how many expensive battleships we can construct to which I am opposed. Ten million dollars apiece for battleships is a huge tax on the national treasury, and a useless one."

"How about your commerce on the seas? How will you protect that?"

interjected Sir Horace Plunkett. "We have no commerce on the seas," was the quick rejoinder. "At least, hardly any of our ocean-going freight would be endangered in time of war, for precious little of it is carried under the American flag."

"Besides," continued Mr. Carnegie, "we have a sure way of ending any war into which we might be drawn. All we have to do is to close our ports to the commerce of the enemy to do that. It will be our surest method of terminating hostilities. Let the enemy starve."

"Suppose we went to war with Germany. That's the country that seems to worry you Britons most," said Mr. Carnegie smiling at Sir Horace as he said this. "After we had closed our own ports the President would send an army of 5,000 men to Winnipeg. They could stop all transportation of grain and oil from the west, and of starvation would follow. Germany could keep up a fight against the combined opposition of all the hungry powers?"

"I think we would be justified in asking Canada not to send supplies of the grain," said Mr. Carnegie. "I do not think either Canada or Great Britain would take a very different view, especially if it were Germany that we were fighting."

"As for landing a hostile army on our coast, pooh! We could welcome them with open arms," said Mr. Carnegie. "The newspaper photographers could throw out to get interviews and pictures. It would be tremendously interesting. We could say to them, 'Come ashore, gentlemen. We'll board you for a few weeks and then you can go home by any route you choose.' I am afraid going home wouldn't be anything like as easy as getting here."

"Changing the subject," said Mr. Carnegie, "I want to tell what you said, but President Taft is doing down here in the South. He is a splendid fellow, and is making friends every time he speaks."

QUIT PASTORATE IN PETERSBURG

Rev. J. S. Foster Announces Intention to Resign His Charge.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, Petersburg, Va., November 21.

Rev. J. S. Foster, D. D., for eight years past pastor of Tabb Street Presbyterian Church in this city, announced to his congregation at this morning service to-day his intention to resign his pastoral charge. His resignation will be formally sent in later, and a congregational meeting will be held on the first Sunday in December to act upon it.

Dr. Foster's resignation is not only regretted by his congregation, but by the entire community in which he has lived and moved for so many years, and in which his useful life has won universal love and respect. He is one of the ablest ministers and profoundest students in the Virginia Synod, and his departure will be a loss not only to the church in this city, but in the State.

During the past several years Dr. Foster has received many flattering calls to other States, notably to Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama. His most recent calls were to the First Church in Birmingham, Ala. Both of these churches he visited, and his decision was to accept the call to the church in Birmingham. Dr. Foster was born and raised in Mobile, Ala., and is returning to his own people. Dr. Foster's work in Petersburg has been productive of great good, and his influence has proved of great benefit to the community. He will not leave for Birmingham until January.

Deaths in Sussex.
Mrs. Caroline V. Bass, wife of S. P. Bass, aged seventy years, died Saturday afternoon at her home in Sussex county, near Stony Creek, after a long period of declining health. She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church, and is survived by her husband, six sons and four daughters—James H. B. P. George I. and Henry Bass, of Sussex and Dinwiddie; Thomas C. and S. Peter Bass, of Petersburg; Mrs. L. H. Ross, of Hamlet, Va.; Mrs. L. H. Hayes, of Carson's, Va., and Mrs. Irene and Susie Bass, of Dinwiddie.

Will Not Run.
Senator A. B. Fobbes, of Prince George county, announces that he will not stand for the nomination for Congress in the Democratic primary in January. There will, therefore, probably be only four candidates for the nomination, no other aspirants being spoken of. The list will be officially closed on Wednesday next.

Benjamin J. Potter, organist of Monumental Church, Richmond, assisted by some of the best musicians in Petersburg, will give an organ recital at St. John's Episcopal Church on Tuesday night, November 23.

Three cases of cutting and wounding occurred about midnight Saturday, the participants in which were identified by the police. One of the victims is in the hospital, and will die.

A fight occurred over a few cents on Lombard street, about 12 o'clock, between William Kennedy and Edward Jones. Kennedy is said to have struck and kicked Jones, when the latter ran into a nearby barber shop, and, seizing a razor, came out and attacked Kennedy. With one vicious swipe at the man who had cut his hair, Kennedy cut Kennedy's flesh and into the liver and lung, and practically disemboweled his victim. Kennedy was taken to the hospital, where he is expected to die.

About midnight a fight occurred on Halifax Street between Joe Ellis and James Harper, during which the latter made the hair of the other and stabbed in the side. Ellis has not been caught.

David Green, colored, during some disorder in the streets, about 12 o'clock, was cut in the back by an unknown person. The wound is not serious.
